Dedication

To Mr. Thomas L. Snyder goes our deepest appreciation and admiration. We thank you, Mr. Snyder, for the years of devoted service that played a large part in making our annual what it is today. We shall always cherish your suggestions and patient guidance. In the years to come you will remain in our hearts as a great friend as well as a wonderful teacher.

At Farmville High School our lives are enriched and developed. This is made possible by the fellowship of both students and teachers. Years from now when we look back at our '56-'57 CAVALIER we will remember this important factor because the CAVALIER gave each of us a "closer look"-----

...At...

The Faculty-Page 9

A very familiar sight around school is Mr. Shell and Miss Porter discussing their plans for the day.

The Students-Page 15

What bell just rang that caused these crowded halls----the last one!!

The Activities-Page 37

These smiling faces were brought about by the Beta Club installation.

The Athletics-Page 51

A touchdown is in store as Claybough drives past Fork Union with that pigskin.

The Features-Page 61

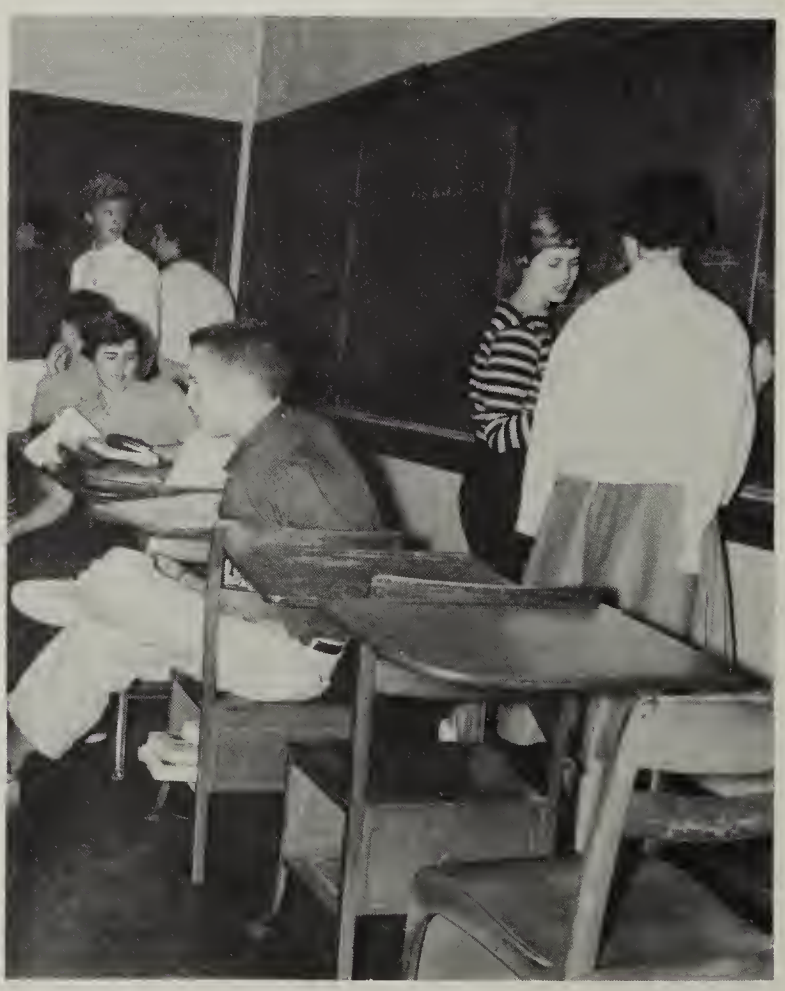
Ghosts and Goblins roamed the school the night of the Senior Halloween Carnival.

Close Ups Of Classes

Quinton Overton shows Joe Mitchell the skills of shop mechanics.

Did Margie Spencer and Roy Plunkett succeed in blowing up the lab?

Remember those troublesome verbs in English?



Does the Latin II Class appreciate Julius Caesar after spending hours studying his conquests?

Yvonne Jenkins aids the underclassmen in checking out books.

These girls should be perfect home-makers!

Evidently not everyone read his World History assignment!!

Mrs. Sears helps the 8th graders prepare their history reports.

In study hall everyone is busily preparing the lessons not completed last night because ----------

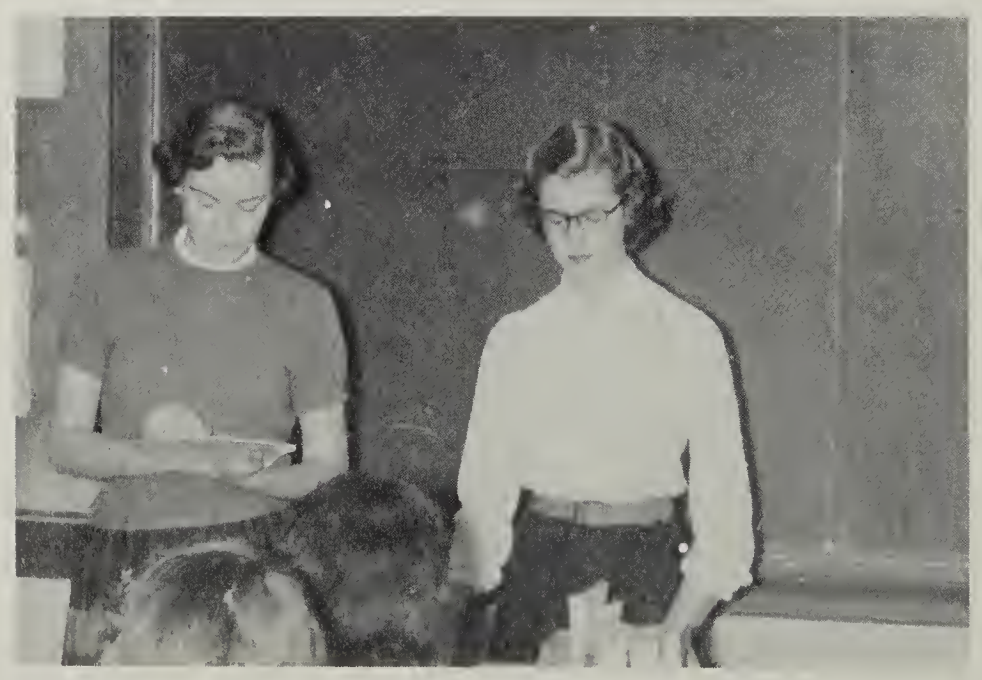
Sally calls the roll as Virginia looks over new business.



Composed of representatives from the various classes and organizations, the S.C.A. helps to facilitate co-operation between the activities and the school. It sponsors various events throughout the year to better the school. It inaugurated this year, for the first full year, a point system to reward those Seniors who have done exceptional work for their five years of High School. This is but one example of the efforts of the S.C.A. to serve the entire student body. That is its purpose - to serve the school and the student.

Cavalier

Howard and his staff plan the layout for the class pictures.

Drawing layout for the pages, writing copy and having it typed, seeing that pictures are taken and cropped to size, and worrying about the deadlines are only a few of the duties of the Editor and his staff. The Business Manager has his headaches too. Merchants must be visited, ads sold, individual pictures sold, and finally the finished book sold. But - when the annual is at last delivered, all the troubles are forgotten in the smiles and "Good job's" from your classmates; and you wouldn't trade places with Prince Rainier.

Focus

News Editor, Jane Morton, confers with some of the others of the staff on the latest issue of the Focus.

The main objective of the 1956-'57 Focus has been to publish monthly a printed issue of the news and interests of Farmville High School. Under the capable leadership of Linda Taylor, editor, the paper has been printed in hope that the students might enjoy in print the happenings and events which have taken place in the realm of Farmville High School during the year.

AGEE'S STUDIO

WALKER'S RESTAURANT, BURKEVILLE

The Latin Club of Framville High is a chapter of the national organization of the Junior Classical League. It is called by its Latin name, "Sodalitas Decorum", or Society of the Gods. Each of the members is identified by the name of a Roman God or Goddess. Semi-monthly programs carry out the objective, which is to learn more about classical civilization.

A few of the members add the finishing touches to a Latin exhibit.

Senior Trip

On the first day of May, New York City was greeted by our lively F. H. S. seniors. However, after a few days of the rush of the big city, many of them looked very much like Lucy and Daphne --- exhausted!

The class of '57 was served royally at Longwood House on the night of May 18.

Senior Banquet

Miss Armistead, Mr. and Mrs. Dahl, and Mr. Leete seem to be having a very good time.

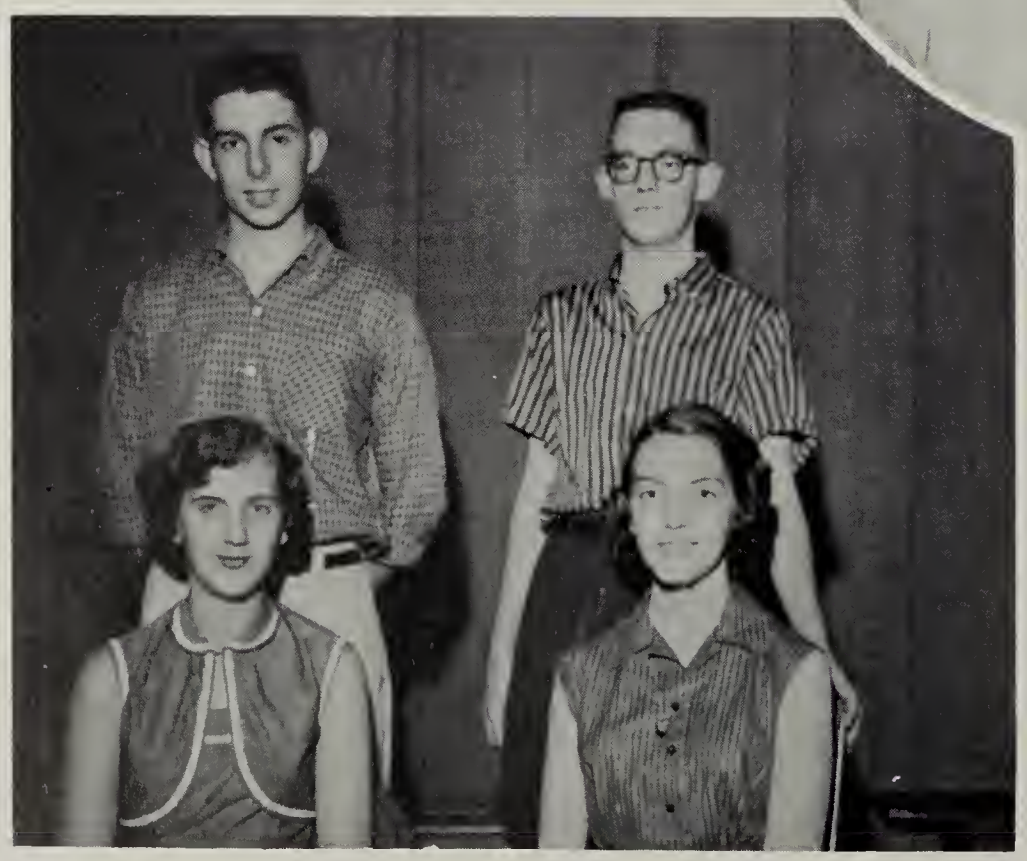
Joe Mitchell and Joanne Graziani were crowned god and goddess of the prom.

Junior-Senior Dance

Recipients of citizenship awards in their respective classes were: Schmidt, Andrews, Gates, Clabough, Glenn, and Coleman.

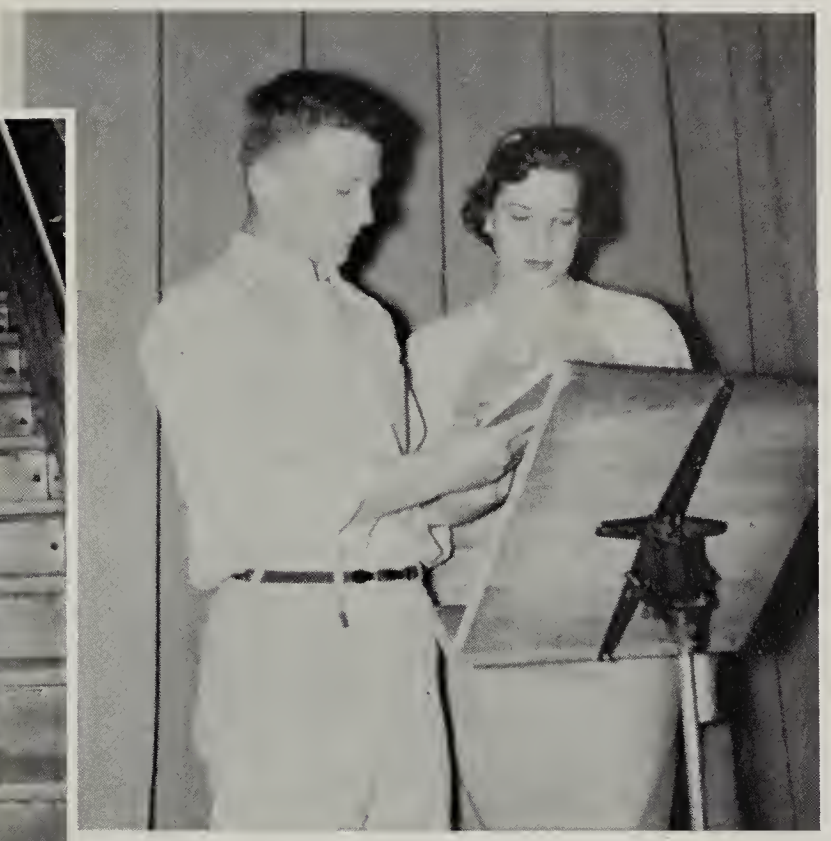
Awards

Josephine Crowder won the district and state poetry reading contest during the annual Forensic Meet.



Those chosen from the junior class to attend Boy's and Girl's State were: Woodward, Williams, Leete, and Plunkett. Also, not pictured, were Price and Ferguson.

Barclay Woodward and George Ferguson received citizenship awards in the junior class.



Katie Mae Bolt and Charles Johnson were chosen the two best citizens of the senior class.

Awards

Dorothy Ennis and Randolph Lafoon were recipients of the Frazer Athletic award.

Howard Noel, Joanne Graziani, and Allen Dahl were the fortunate recipients of scholarships.

Fifty-two seniors left Farmville High School this year to take their place in the world.

Graduation

Roy Laing Pearson was the class speaker and Dr. Wake, president of Lynchburg College, was the guest speaker.

FEATURES

During the halftime of the very exciting game with the F.U.M.A. JV's another exciting event occured. Miss Sylvia Garland was crowned as FHS Homecoming Queen by Wolverine captain, Quinton Overton and reigned happily as FHS won 20-19.

Homecoming

Homecoming Court -- Miss Sylvia Garland, Queen; Miss Betty Hall, 8th grade representative; Miss Patsy Foster, Maid of Honor; Miss Ruth Catlin, sophomore representative; Miss Margie Spencer, junior representative; Miss Mary Doyne, freshman representative.

Valentine Dance

Joe Mitchell and Virginia Bass were crowned King and Queen of the FHS Valentine Dance held at the Moose Lodge on February 9th. Here they are served punch by Dorothy Ennis.

Tape recordings of top hits furnished a variety of music. A large crowd was on hand and everyone went home happy, especially Charles Johnson, senior class Treasurer. The dance was sponsored by the senior class.

Roy Pearson, Carol Brown, Daphne Shepard, Virginia Bass, and Howard Noel. Not present at the time of the awards were Patsy Foster and Joanne Graziani.

On February the eighth in an assembly of the entire student body, Point System awards were made to seven seniors for outstanding work throughout their high school days. The awards were made to those seniors who had earned a minimum number of points by the end of the first semester of their senior year.

Special Occurrences

Also on the same program, awards were made to Roy Pearson for having been the player who maintained the highest scholastic average for the 1956 football season, Captain Quinton Overton, and to Howard Clabough, who was voted the player who contributed the most to the team. Randolph Lafoon (not pictured) received the Sportsmanship trophy.
